For more info : Q: Summing Cells based on Text in One Column Based on Predefined Offset Good evening, I'm looking to sum every 5th column (starting from cell A9) and storing in column B (starting at cell B8) as well as summing all the cells in the cell above the 5th column and storing that in column C (starting at cell C8). Example: (A9) $1 (B8) $2 Thanks! A: If you want to sum all cells before the 5th column and then sum all cells after the 5th column, you can put an array formula in B7 through C10 as follows: =ArrayFormula(SUMIF($A$7:A10, ">0", B7:B10)) where '>0' matches the cells on the 5th column. When you copy the formula to the rest of cells, you must use the Ctrl+Shift+Enter instead of just Enter. How it works SUMIF($A$7:A10, ">0", B7:B10) This part of the formula means, iterate through column A from cell 7 to cell 10. For each cell, if its value is greater than 0, it will add up the value of the corresponding cell in range B7:B10. Array Formula The ArrayFormula may be not familiar to you. The array formula as above is an array formula. How to Enter the Array Formula Select the range B7:B10. Press Ctrl+Shift+Enter to create an array formula instead of a simple formula.
