Download the VistaTrades for free: "VistaTrades is a piece of software that was designed with one major purpose in mind, namely to help you monitor the stock market by relying on an overbought/oversold screener, with three indicators being included in the equation: RSI, PercentR, and Stochastic. Depending on how tolerant you are of risk, the tool helps you delve into both intraday and day trading strategies. The program's approach is to provide you with a list of potential stocks, ETFs, as well as mutual funds, all by means of the aforementioned screener that runs once the market has closed for the day. Regarding potential sells, it is worth mentioning that the application can handle them as well, except that only data for the current day can be processed. Aside from that, a component called "Index Monitoring" allows you to keep an eye on three major indexes in order to be up to date with the TVIs. The said sources are the Russell 1000 Index, the S&P 500, and last but not least, the Nasdaq Composite. What's more, the software utility is capable of calculating how many times a buy signal has turned into a sell signal, thus translating to profits.

VistaTrades was developed by a company called AMIGO Capital, a financial analytics and technology consulting firm. It uses overbought and oversold indicators to create a list of sell and buy opportunities. The program runs at the end of each day, with the aim of helping investors to achieve better returns by focusing on the best potential stocks and funds in the market. A very important part of the program is its "Index Monitoring" feature. This allows investors to keep an eye on various indexes, such as the S&P 500 and the Nasdaq Composite. What makes the program unique is the fact that it includes several indicators, such as the RSI, PercentR, and Stochastic. As the latter is, in turn, a stochastic oscillator, the program can help traders to evaluate the potential of various assets. Chronic myeloid leukemia is a cancer of the blood and bone marrow. Built on top of the Candlestick charting method, VistaTrades will help you spot potential trades. Furthermore, it will also offer the tools needed to monitor the market, so as to be able to adjust your trading positions in response to what the market is trying to do. Since it has been designed with the Candlestick approach as the backbone, this application will be more likely to spot changes in the market. Whether you are interested in intraday or day trading, VistaTrades is more than capable of catering to your needs. The program runs with the help of two major indicators, which are RSI and Stochastic. It is also worth mentioning that the program is able to display what the market is doing with the help of the aforementioned indicators. In other words, it is capable of outputting an overbought/oversold signal. The beauty of the software is that it is compatible with both the day and intraday trading strategies. The latter, however, will be more likely to get the job done. If the users of VistaTrades wish to maximize their profits, then they will have to subscribe to the service. In order to do that, it will take just a few steps. First, select the desired charts from the recommended sources. Second, choose the time frame, which can be done by considering the daily or intraday basis. After that, specify whether you want to use the overbought/oversold indicator. Lastly, select the trade size. There are many options that the program has to offer. So, be sure to explore the features and the details. The vast majority of people make use of the three indicators that are listed in the program, which are RSI, Stochastic, and PercentR. The latter is the one that will allow users to choose between the day and intraday trading approaches. Description: A helpful and useful software utility that will definitely help you find profit opportunities in the stock market. One of the things that makes VistaTrades stand out from other trading platforms is its ability to provide charts that use the Candlestick charting method. The good thing about the aforementioned charting method is that it enables VistaTrades to spot potential buy/sell decisions. In order to do that, you will be offered with indicators, namely RSI, Stochastic, and PercentR. Note that the indicator "PercentR" is the one that will allow you to detect potential overbought/oversold periods. Furthermore, VistaTrades will offer you the possibility to set up the time period. This feature will come in handy because it will allow you to select between the daily and intraday trading approaches. The numbers that
